BRING IN YOUR WATER CASE

Join the First Wetskills Water Challenges in UK-Bath

A new way for educational experience and networking approach for students and young professionals in the water sector

The Wetskills programme focuses on out-of-the-box solutions for local water challenges by bringing teams of diverse international students and young professionals together.

Wetskills Water Challenges

The Wetskills Water Challenge is a two-week event for university level students and young water professionals from around the globe. Participants work in multidisciplinary and intercultural teams to develop out-of-the-box solutions for water challenges posed by case sponsors.

Since 2010, more than 400 students and young water professionals from about 100 international universities and organisations have participated in one of the more than twenty Wetskills Water Challenges held in Asia (China, Taiwan, Indonesia and India), North Africa & Middle East (Iran, Oman, Morocco, Israel and Egypt), Sub-Saharan Africa (South Africa & Mozambique), Europe (Romania & the Netherlands) and North America (United States & Canada).

First Edition in United Kingdom: Bath, March/April 2017

In March/April 2017 a Wetskills Water Challenge will be hosted in Bath, United Kingdom for the first time. Hosted by the Water Innovation Research Centre of the University of Bath (WIRC@Bath). The event is being organised in cooperation with the non-profit Wetskills Foundation (based in The Netherlands). Launched in 2014, the WIRC@Bath provides a unique environment for engaging in water research and practice, with established academic and industrial partnerships across the globe. The creative and collaborative spirit flows through out multidisciplinary teams, with the wide experience in natural sciences and engineering, as well as on social, economic and political sciences, in policy and business management. We hope you will join us to be part of the Wetskills experience in 2017!

This year's Wetskills Bath (UK) will bring together local partners and hosts including innovative British and European organisations, businesses and institutions. Five bright, enthusiastic young teams will learn from and work with local professionals and water experts on challenging water case studies posed by the sponsors.

This Wetskills edition will present the results of the teams during the 18th IWA UK Young Water Professionals Conference (10-12 April)

Wetskills will formally start on March 31, 2017 with an opening event hosted at the University of Bath. On this day, each case owner presents their challenge to the student teams. Over the next 9 days the participants' teams will work on the challenge with periodic guidance from local experts. Each team will present its solution at the end of the (two-week) challenge during a pitch session at the 18th IWA Young Water Professionals Conference, hosted at the University of Bath (10-12 April). The participants' presentations will contribute to the theme of the conference on 'Dialogue for Water' by providing innovative and interdisciplinary solutions. Many experts from the United Kingdom and the Netherlands will be invited.

We are looking for companies and organizations to bring in their Water Challenges!

Case topics

The case owners determine the challenge topic of the study cases of Wetskills.

Under the broad theme of 'Dialogue for Water', cases are now being assembled including such topics as; stormwater management, deployable flood defence systems, geothermal and thermal exchange energy systems, coastal master plan development, resilience. Additional potential cases are still being explored with the partners in both countries.

See www.wetskills.com for cases of the previous Wetskills events.

Programme

Wetskills will formally start on Friday 31st of March with an opening event hosted at the University of Bath. On this day, called BrainHurricane, each case owner presents the challenge to the Wetskills teams. Over the next 9 days the Wetskills teams will work on the challenge, with guidance of Dutch and UK supervisors and support from diverse local experts from academia, companies and governmental institutes.

Each team will present their innovative solution at the end of the (two-week) challenge during a special pitch session as part of the programme of the 18th IWA UK

Young Water Professionals Conference (10-12 April 2017).

Does your company, organization or institute in the water sector have a challenging water case?

Wetskills-UK will be an excellent opportunity to showcase your organisation's expertise and commitment to innovative solutions.

Are you an innovative water company, organisation or institute and do you have a challenging water case? Come on board! Contact Johan Oost at the Wetskills Foundation (johan.oost@wetskills.com).

WetsNext

The WetsNext programme initiates and stimulates follow-up activities based on the concepts and results of the Wetskills Challenges. The partners of this Wetskills edition strive to follow-up the outcomes with further (feasibility or pilot) studies, done by Young Professionals and students, but intensively guided by case owners, Wetskills alumni, other interested partners. Main aim: to follow-up great ideas, to implement them and to gain impact!
